

Officials praise '83 police report

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

"I would like to thank the police department for an exemplary job last year," Granite City Third Ward Alderman Carl Kittel commented at Tuesday night's Granite City City Council meeting. A member of the police subcommittee, he had just finished reading the Granite City Police Department's 1983 annual report which showed major crime in the city down four percent and clearance rates up by 10 percent over 1982 figures.

Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer told the Press-Record, "This is a tremendous report. We didn't have to be top it next year (1984)."

Mayor Paul Schuler also praised the report, saying it was a good report. "We should feel awfully safe in Granite City. The police also have done a super job in solving crimes. It's an excellent report."

CHIEF VEIZER said he is proudest of the clearances of major crimes during the year by arrest. In the auto burglary classification, for example, only 331 cases were reported, but 456 were cleared by arrest, many from the previous year solved this year. Home burglaries also showed more cases cleared by arrest (500) than were reported last year (501).

In all, police and detectives cleared 1,940 of what the FBI considers major cases — murder, rape, robbery, kidnapping, auto burglary, larceny and auto theft.

The clearances (although some were from 1982 cases) represent 99.9 percent solving of the 2,227 crimes reported in the city in all of 1983, the annual report showed. Crime decreases were shown in the categories of homicide, rape, robbery, burglary and auto theft. Slight increases were reported in assault and auto burglaries.

MAJOR CRIMES reported last year (with 1982 totals in parentheses) totaled: homicide and attempted homicide, zero (six); forcible rape, four (nine); robbery, 14 (21); assault, 396 (366); burglary, 501 (591); auto burglary, 331 (321); larceny, 913 (914), and auto theft, 78 (92).

In all of 1983, a total of 2,227 major crimes was reported, down four percent from the 2,318 crimes reported last year (501).

Clearances of major crimes by arrest were up in four areas, assault, homicide, auto theft and larcenies. The largest increase was in auto burglaries, where the total of 456 cases cleared by arrest last year was up 1,725 percent from the 25 clearances in 1982. Burglary clearances also showed a 297 percent increase, from 128 in 1982 to 506 last year.

LARCENY cases solved showed a 110 percent improvement over 1982 with 614 solved last year, up from 292 the previous year. A slight improvement in solving cases also was shown in the assault category where 336 assaults were cleared by arrest last year; up three percent from 324 solved in 1982. Solving of robbery was the same as last year, as 10 cases were solved each year.

In the major crime categories, few cases were solved last year than in the previous year. Solving of rape cases was down 80 percent, from five to one, but the number of cases which occurred were cut by more than half last year. The same was true of murder cases. There was one murder solved last year, the murder of Jesse Manke, whose body was found in a trash dumpster behind the Lone Acorn Tavern in 1982. However, no murders occurred during 1983. In 1982, the Granite City police solved four murders.

One area where the number of cases solved declined significantly was auto thefts, where 14 were solved last year, down 42 percent from the 24 cases solved in 1982.

OVERALL ARRESTS, including non-major cases, increased 62 percent in 1983 over the previous year. There were 3,001 cases of all types cleared by the police during

Newsboy delivers, honesty is the 'key'

By SUSAN SIGNAGÓ WEICH
of the Press-Record

When Press-Record newsboy George Thomas found keys left in the door of a mobile home on his paper route, he took no chances. The home, which is owned by a 38-year-old Pontiac Beach woman, looked suspiciously quiet.

"I was delivering papers and I noticed that the keys were left in the door, so I decided to see if everything was alright," said the 12-year-old Thomas. "I looked around to see if anyone was there, then I closed the door and took the keys out. I didn't want anyone coming along stealing anything."

"THEN I went to the lady's house next door, to see if she had seen the woman (who lived in the mobile home) that day. She had no, but that the woman sometimes visited the neighbor down the street."

"So I went down to the friend's house and, sure enough, the other lady was there. The woman who owned the mobile home didn't realize she had left her keys in the door, but she was very grateful and she said she was going to tell my boss about what I did."

THE OWNER of the mobile home, who wishes to remain anonymous, said she is glad that she has a newsboy who is looking out for her best interests. "When he saw the keys in the door, he suspected foul play and was worried about my welfare," she said. "I think it is very considerate of him to ask the neighbors about me. He should be commended."

The news of Thomas' actions came as no surprise to his mother, Jackie. "George has always been very concerned about things like that — things that don't quite seem right," she said. "He's really a good little boy."

Thomas has been serving a paper route since October 1983. His current paper route consists of about 40 homes in the Lake Drive Mobile Home Court, in Gaslight Walk and on Bruce Avenue.

HE IS currently a student at Grigsby Junior High School and enjoys working with computers as a hobby. He hopes to someday become a computer engineer. He doesn't consider his actions to be heroic or even unusual. "I just did what anyone else would," he said. "I wanted to make sure that she wasn't in trouble."

State tax surcharge will end

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

With Governor James R. Thompson saying yesterday he will seek an extension of the one-year state income tax increase, which will expire on Feb. 1, State Rep. Sam Wolf told the Press-Record.

Faced with a sea of "red ink," lawmakers last year decided on a temporary rather than a permanent one-fifth increase to 3 percent for individuals and 4.8 percent for businesses. Now, the rates will return to 2.5 and 4 percent, respectively.

TOLL-FREE LINE TO SHERIFF

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

The installation of a toll-free telephone line from Chouteau Township area directly to the office of the Madison County Sheriff's Department was announced by the Chouteau Township Board Monday night. It was noted that the toll-free number will benefit township residents, who will be able to reach the sheriff's department in time of emergency.

This action was prompted following a Jan. 17 meeting of concerned

Bigger role for principals

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

A larger role for Granite City school principals in curriculum planning may be one of the results of an administrative reorganization to be proposed by District Nine's new Personnel Committee.

Principals in the reorganization is to economize on payroll costs as the school district acts to balance its budget and reduce operating debt.

BOARD MEMBERS said after Tuesday night's Board of Education meeting that Administrative Assistants Warren Collins (elementary schools) and James Dumont (secondary schools) will be asked what portion of their curriculum coordination work could be handled effectively at the building level.

The three-member committee conferred with Frohardt Principal Donald E. Kopf and Prather Principal William Richard Brinkhoff on Monday afternoon to determine the best way to reorganize elementary schools.

The Personnel Committee plans to meet Friday with junior high school administrators — Michael Sikora, Coolidge principal, Charles R. Weiss, Grant principal, and principals Nancy D. Marti, Coolidge, and principal principal.

At least two committee meetings are planned after Friday, one of them with Granite City High School Principal Gilbert Johnson and another with Collins and Dumont. The latter two administrators were available to meet with the committee Monday afternoon but time ran out.

schools and welfare will receive financial increases in 1984 but not as much as they may desire.

"With part of the budget problem eliminated" by the one-year tax boost, there appears to be overwhelming sentiment for tax relief whenever and wherever possible, Wolf said at Springfield.

Meanwhile, emphasis is to be placed on actions and policies encouraging a healthy upturn in the general level of economic activity, in turn bolstering the amount of funds available to meet governmental costs.

NO LIMIT has been set on the number of interviews to be held. However, some administrators may not be consulted directly.

The format as explained by Board President David V. Hartley on Monday is to have board members to meet with a single individual at a time. With only the four persons attending, each one conferring with the committee may be more willing to express his or her views and ideas, Hartley said.

The persons to be interviewed are being selected after Friday. The president said he doubts that time will permit all of the administrators and supervisors to be scheduled.

Optimism for United Way

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

"I am looking forward to working with each of you. I am looking forward to your impressions," the new executive director said.

Despite failure of last year's fund drive to exceed $1 million, the mood was more upbeat at the meeting. Eric Robertson, who will be the 1984 general campaign chairman, urged all volunteers to understand the positive side of the campaign which just ended. "We raised $388,000 in a community with 16 percent unemployment. That's quite an achievement," he said.

Thomas V. Majewski, 1983 general campaign chairman, stated, "Unfortunately, the progress made and objectives realized through specific campaign planning could not overcome the effects of the high

A portion of the fine is to be revoked if he successfully completes the treatment program, according to court records.

Dixon was arrested the previous night following a disturbance at his residence and was charged with disorderly conduct. He also appeared on two warrants citing aggravated assault.

GCPD: a job well done in 1983

The 1983 Granite City Police Department report was welcome news to this community and every officer on the force should be proud.

The clearing of cases by arrest was the most outstanding part of the report. In some cases, police cleared more of some types of crimes than were committed during the year. In 1982, 1962 crimes and older were solved during the year.

Some may question the statistics, but we are convinced that Police Chief Ronald Veizer has the proof. For every burglary cleared is an address, a date, a person who has been arrested for that crime.

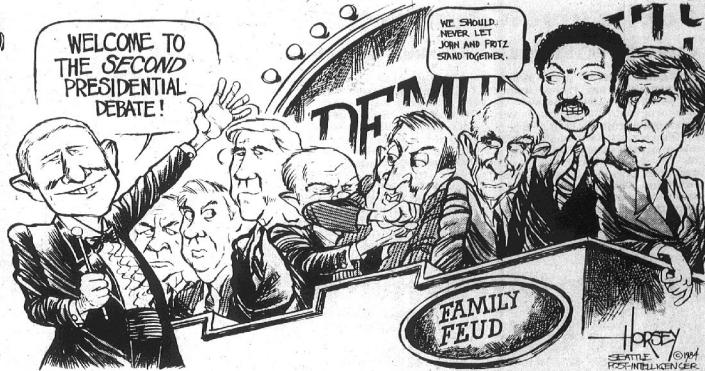

Burglaries were reported in the city in 1983 and the police cleared 508 burglary cases. There were 331 auto burglaries in GC during 1983 and police cleared 456 auto burglaries during the 12 months.

Another area of pride in the report is a four percent drop in major crimes, including a 55 percent drop in rapes and a 33 percent decline in robberies. There were no murders in the city limits during 1983 and 1982. The Press-Record carried the news of six murders in the city.

Good detective work combined with hard work by the uniformed men in the field and backup by the department's administration combined in solving cases and reducing crime. All this with a nationally-suggested minimum wage level.

This is a lot to be proud of in the report. Mayor Paul Schuler is proud. Chief Veizer is proud. We hope the city council and all citizens of Granite City will recognize the contribution the police department is making to a better way of life for all of us and will give the officers the support and respect that they deserve — for a job well done.

Toll-free line to sheriff

It's about time!
We commend Chouteau Township officials for taking the first step on solving what has been a serious concern for many years — the need to make a long-distance telephone call for county residents to reach the sheriff's department.

Chouteau plans to install a service which will allow anyone having 931 or 797 prefixes to their telephone numbers to call the sheriff's department toll free. We feel this is worth the money and is a service other townships might consider offering.

It has been our contention for years that people should not have to make a long-distance call for police protection. Psychologically, it makes police protection seem very far away, which is disquieting.

Public service sentences here

Madison County judges in recent months have been ordering some of the defendants appearing before them to serve, to do even 100 hours in public service employment (PSPE).

This is an encouraging sign. In combination with incarceration, fines, court costs and restitution payments, such sentences can convey the message that crime should not pay and does not pay. In addition, the time spent in public service work can have a therapeutic benefit for the sentenced person and his or her community.

Robert W. Gillespie, University of Illinois economics professor, sees such innovative sentencing as a factor in reducing the high rates of crime and punishment. He believes judges can reduce prison overcrowding by having individuals in appropriate instances—serve all or part of their punishment by doing needed work.

Studying alternative punishment in both the U.S. and Europe, he has completed an analysis of the use of fines, restitution and service employment, compiling data from three central Illinois counties over the past two years.

Prof. Gillespie found that Illinois, reflecting a national distrust of fines alone as a criminal penalty, also, older persons on fixed incomes say they shy away from calling the sheriff's department except in dire emergency to avoid the long-distance toll. They say it is especially disturbing to make the toll call and have a dispatcher at the sheriff's department put them on hold. As they wait, their phone bill mounts.

During his first campaign for sheriff, the Press-Record told Emil Toffatt that we felt a chief priority, should he become sheriff, was to provide toll-free telephone service to the Quad-City area. He agreed, but when he became sheriff, he said the money would be available.

We salute Chouteau Township for taking the first step to correct a bad situation and hope the movement for free emergency calling will spread to other townships.

requires financial levies to be accompanied by imprisonment or prison.

PSPE can easily be utilized in counties with an active service program; 47 of the 102 counties participate.

The chief deterrent to new kinds of penalties, he found, is not active opposition but rather "lack of motivation to alter traditional sentencing patterns."

Restitution, also used in a number of Madison County cases, is seldom imposed in the three counties he studied, even though in one of the counties it would have been logical in three-fourths of the victims.

Fighting a general "lack of understanding of the potential value" of non-prison sanctions, Gillespie hopes to see laws amended to provide specific ranges of public service time for both misdemeanors and felony cases.

Although we would not want to see "sentencing alternatives" carried to an extreme, it makes a lot sense for there to be a reward—in dollars and work—for the damage and depravity inflicted by law violators. Our county has made a good start in this direction, and we urge it to persevere.

THROUGH THE FILES

Compiled from the pages of the Granite City Press-Record

50 Years Ago

Jan. 26, 1934

Petitions are being circulated in several parts of Madison County to name F.M. Scott, county superintendent of schools, as a candidate for renomination on the Democratic ticket to the office which he now holds. Mr. Scott has served in this position for two terms, with an interval of four years.

25 Years Ago

Door-to-door mail delivery service is to be expanded on 11 streets in the Nameoki area effective Feb. 7, it was announced today by Acting Postmaster Theodore Overbeck, who said there are several requirements which must be met by the householders.

To qualify for door-to-door delivery service, streets must be paved or improved, street signs and between terms.

Enrollment for the second semester at community high school reached 1,250 in both departments, it was learned this morning from Assistant Principal Paul Grigsby. That is 60 more than a year ago this time.

While warmer weather during the weekend rid the community of most of its snow and ice from last week's storm, slick street areas contributed to six more traffic mishaps following the 18 recorded through Thursday afternoon.

10 Years Ago

Jan. 28, 1974

Donald Partney, 57, of 2600 Illinois Ave., mayor of Granite City from 1965 to April 30, 1973, following 18 years as a member of the city council, died after lunch at 4:30 p.m. Saturday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he had been a patient for three weeks.

Former Mayor Partney previously was a foreman for the Westinghouse Electric Co., sheet metal division and the Everson Electric Co., aircraft division.

A.O. Smith announced today that it will suspend all operations Thursday and Friday of this week at its Granite City auto frame plant. When production resumes Monday, Feb. 4, the staff will total 575 office, supervising production, and maintenance workers, which means the indefinite layoffs of 450 workers.

Reader questions style, punctuates accuracy

To the Editor:

Six times in the course of one article in the January 23rd issue of the "Press-Record", reference is made to the Rev. Edwin Arentsen as "the Reverend Arentsen". This is exactly like referring to "the Mayor of Granite City" as "the Honorable Schuler". "Reverend", like "Honorable", and unlike such words as "minister", "pastor", and "father", is an adjective, not a noun. Therefore it is proper to say "the Rev. John Smith" or "The Rev. Mr. Smith"; just as one might say "the Honorable Paul Schuler" or "the Hon. Mr. Schuler". But it is just as highly improper to say "the Reverend Smith" or "the Reverend Arentsen" as it would be to say "the Honorable Schuler".

Whoever edited this article should check the first edition of Fowler's "Modern English Usage" under the article "Honorable".

Time to fix postal branch leaking roof

To the Editor:

I recently went into the sub Post Office in Bellemore Village. To me, it was a shocking disgrace. The building was leaking water and looked like a sharecropper's shack, buckets all over the place, in all sizes and colors, catching the drops from the leaking roof. I guess the philosophy is when it's raining or snowing, you don't need to. A bucket under the leak is sufficient.

I think it's past time to fix the roof, so when the public goes into United States Post Office, they don't have to run an obstacle course of scattered buckets, along with dodging roof leaks.

EXTENSIVE DAMAGE to the Duffin Brothers Lumber Co. in Mitchell is evident in this photo taken during the weekend while the building was still burning. The loss is estimated at $400,000 to $500,000 by the owners, Edward D. and Barbara Duffin, who bought the business from Fred Duffin in 1970. The lumber yard has been in business in two Quad-City area locations for 36 years. The Duffins said customers may call them at 797-0244 or write them at Post Office Box 36, Mitchell, Ill., 62040, if they have any questions. Plans for the future are indefinite.

Davis said some administrators have asked him how they should respond when conferring with the committee. He said the only advice he has given to them is to "be professional" in their verbal presentation.

Board members remarked Tuesday night that it may be difficult to complete a partial report for the board Feb. 7, as originally planned, due to the time element. A final report on proposed administrative alternatives will be given at the Feb. 20 board meeting.

THE COMMITTEE that was created at the Jan. 17 board session consists of Pres. Partney, School Treasures Kelly Hogan and Mrs. Ruth Lahr. Board members not on the committee are Secretary Thomas G. Miofsky, Alan R. Crider, E. Dewey Melton and L. Monroe Worthen.

Mrs. Lahr said it is hoped to interview teachers as well as administrators and the committee prepares recommendations on administrative changes.

Attorneys William Schooley and William Schooley Jr. were present along with the Personnel Committee at the start of its initial deliberations but they then departed, leaving the conference room to the committee and to each individual summoned by the panel.

Board members who convened briefly Tuesday evening were Worthen who served as the meeting chairman and Mrs. Lahr, Hough and Crider.

BY A 5-0 VOTE the board adopted a policy amendment proposed Jan. 20 by its Policy Committee:

"Employees eligible for a retirement annuity prior to July 1, 1986, will receive the insurance benefits as outlined in Policy 1000 provided they notify the Board of Education prior to March 1, 1984. The present Policy Rules and Regulations GAOR will terminate on March 1, 1984, for future early retirements."

Supt. Davis said employees are required to be eligible for early retirement this year next year or the following year. Of these, 12 already have been granted early retirement and 38 have not requested it.

He estimated that it costs the school district $1,200 a year per person in health and life insurance coverage of employees and certain retirees.

The school system is self-insured and utilizes the General American Insurance Co. for some insurance work and recommendations. Supt. Davis added.

SERVICE EMPLOYEES Local 99 was represented at the Policy Committee meeting, and other employee groups were given copies of the committee's early retirement cutoff proposal on Jan. 20. No groups voiced comments prior to the board's vote.

The committee voted to encourage employees considering early retirements in 1984, 1985 and 1986 to make their plans known and definite.

If honorable dismissals of staff members occur between March 20 for 1984-85 year, the dismissal list can either be avoided or reduced by the extent of future retirements.

Unchanged is the basic retirement policy that went into effect Jan. 1, 1979, setting the retirement age at 60 and the pension unit to the unit school district at 70 years. Earlier retirement may be required because of mental or physical infirmities that are medically substantiated.

EMPLOYEES REACHING 70 may continue their employment until the end of the fiscal year, which begins March 1 are eligible for the district's health and life insurance plan.

Rules adopted in 1981 say that a retired certificated employee participates at board expense if there have been at least three years of full-time employment with District Nine. The age is at least 55, the board has been notified of resignation or retirement plans, and the person is eligible for an immediate retirement annuity from the Illinois Teachers Retirement System and not tax monies."

Any resident of 55-931- or 977- prefix is able to reach the Edwardsville office of the sheriff without being charged for a toll call, Mrs. Polley said.

A TELEPHONE company spokesman informed Mrs. Polley it will take about 12 business days to install the system. There is a monthly fee for the sheriff's office open for another line. Also, there will be an additional service charge to connect the line in the Edwardsville facility that also will have to be paid by the township.

"This is our first step we have been able to make in our effort to secure more protection for the residents," Mrs. Donna Thomas said.

Supervisor Waller "Dick" Sparks asked Mrs. Stefanoff if she had any questions. She responded, "None," and answered, "We came to this meeting primarily to seek such a toll-free line. The supervisors will still retain both titles as a result of legislation signed by the governor.

The Zoning Board also reviewed a request of Roger Kieffer for a public hearing on Jan. 6 for the purpose of constructing an addition to a mobile home on the Kieffer location. Since there were no neighbors, the Kieffers complied with the terms of the ordinance. Kieffer was granted 30 days to complete all necessary papers before a decision could be made. The zoning board also notified the applicant that all pertinent information must be submitted to the county attorney and, after 30 days, legal action would be instituted to clarify the ownership of the property and dispose of existing permits.

In other business, a letter from the Township Officials Association, a state organization noted that township supervisors will, in the future, also serve as chairmen of their respective townships' board of trustees.

citizens in the township who said each call to the sheriff's office is a toll call and that many people on the telephone are reluctant to make a call for help, unless under drastic circumstances.

Mrs. Jeanne Stefanoff, Mrs. Donna Thoiman and Morris Miles, representatives of the concerned citizens, attended the meeting Monday to request this service be installed so as to the rash burglaries in the area.

TOWNSHIP CLERK Patricia Polley contacted the telephone company prior to the meeting to secure information on the cost and time elements involved in installing a system. Cost for first-time installation will be $445.57 and a monthly rate of $78 will be charged, she explained.

With this information and the fact the township has $2,000 in its annual budget for the telephone, Polley made a motion the township provide funds for the installation and absorb the monthly fees, since project can be funded with Revenue Sharing funds and not tax monies."

Many persons today deny that Bible is God's Word. Many arguments are brought forth to prove that it cannot be. But the people in this world and the people in it would be much better off if we all lived by it.

God's Word must be believed. We must believe in it and live by it. It is the thing that will bring it to life and make it work for us. Jesus defeated Satan and his power by simply stating, "It is written."

Start living by and abiding by the Word of God, and see what a change takes place in your life.

GC council briefs*Air grant rejected

THE AIR POLLUTION department will not be submitted as a candidate for federal funds, according to a 9 to 4 council vote. First Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish, air pollution control chairman, sponsored the motion to reapply for federal 75-25 percent matching funds, following a suggestion by the city's attorney, said. The alderman is concerned the city does not have a full air department to face state automobile emissions testing requirements. A grant was taken away from the city about two years ago, after the council laid off two-thirds of the air control staff and used the remaining employees to assist the engineering department. Some aldermen oppose funding the department, while they feel the city is condition. Others oppose funding it, while they feel the application went overboard. Sam Whitmer, Everett Morlen, Paul Fisk, Michael Modrusic, Carl Kittel, Sharon Perjek, Jake Varadian, Lloyd Bailey and Woodrow Moad. Those approving the application were: Aldermen Fred Schuman, Casmer Skubish, Stephen Saltich and Phillip Miller.

Ambulance bids opened

BIDS WERE opened for a new ambulance and life-support system by Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer, chairman of the ambulance committee. The committee met Monday night last month to discuss their selection. Bids were accepted on new, demonstrator, van and modular models. Granite City Steel Division of National Steel has donated $30,000 towards the purchase of a new ambulance.

Home appraised

THE COUNCIL approved a motion by Sixth Ward Alderman Woodrow Moad, planning and zoning chairman, for a mobile home to be installed at 2906 E. 23rd St. Moad plans to soon conduct a meeting of the planning committee to discuss tentative plans by the Plan Commission to study updates to the city's Zoning Ordinance.

Officer resigns

POLICE OFFICER Robert L. Knezevich submitted his resignation last week to accept a position with the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement.

Other business

TWO HOMES on Iowa Street, to be displaced by the National Supercarlet expansion project, will be moved from that location to plots near the Archer Daniels Midland Co. plant. Aldermen approved the move and asked for an agreement to limit the city from liability. The council also approved a request by the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society to conduct a CRAFT FAIR at the 24th Street parkway on May 6, when the society will conduct its annual house tour.

Venice Lionesses seeking members

The newly formed Venice Lionesses Club will conduct its official certificate night at 7 p.m. on Feb. 25 at the Venice Recreation Center, 323 Broadway.

At its first meeting, officers elected were: Shirley Givens, president; Gail Johnson, vice president; Loraine Strauther, secretary, and Diane Pollard, treasurer. Marie Jacks and Yvonne Harmon were named to the board of directors.

The group is conducting a membership drive and is looking for any young woman, 16 or older, to join the organization. Those interested may call Kerry Hamilton at 452-1654.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH DRIVING IN WRONG LANE

Allison Mahle, 45, of 1034 Greenwood St., Madison, was charged Monday with driving in the wrong lane after she allegedly backed her vehicle into another auto. The other vehicle, driven by John A. Lewis, 218 Center St., Madison, was bound Mrs. Mahle's car, near the 600 block of Madison Avenue.

James Newsome, 1629 Market St., Madison, a passenger in Lewis' car, was treated at New Elizabeth Medical Center for injuries.

Presbyterians to study Black Church Experience

"The Black Church Experience" will be the theme of monthly fellowship breakfast at the Nameoki Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road. "This is a timely topic that is little understood by the vast majority of American Churches," observed Rev. James P. Pierson, host pastor. "In an age when Christians are growing in their appreciation of the rich diversity and background of our particular churches, we feel that understanding of the Black Church experience is needed," he stated.

The event begins at 7:30 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 29th. Al Bagi and Fred Fossieck are co-chairmen of the breakfast.

Speaker for fellowship breakfast will be the president of Quad-City Ministerial Alliance and pastor of the Bethel A.M.E. Church of Madison, the Rev. Alfred Johnson. Rev. Johnson is a graduate of Wilberforce University and the Christian Theological Seminary of Indianapolis, Ind. from the Victorian era, traditional and modern concept, will be presented at Bridal Fair '84 on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 5, at the Granite City Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave.

The annual presentation is under the auspices of Mrs. Seibold's Bake Shops and Inge's Brides and Formal and will be from 1 p.m. until 4:30 p.m.

Local young women will model an array of wedding gowns at the 2:30 p.m. segment featuring Shirley Adams, radio personality and active volunteer in area civic and community clubs and events, as commentator.

A lifelong resident of Granite City, Mrs. Adams joined the staff of WGNU Radio in October 1961, leaving her position as a credit investigator for the Associated Retailers and Civic Association to join the radio station staff.

She is one of the first women in the St. Louis area to become an account executive for a radio station. In the early 1960s, Mrs. Adams became interested in community affairs, producing, acquiring the sponsors, writing the commercials and then conducting and announcing the live programs for many local events.

Mrs. Adams also is host of the "Party Line" program aired from 6 to 8 p.m. each Friday night.

She has accepted the responsibility of vice-chairman of the 1984 United Way campaign and currently is serving her third year on the Granite City Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, where she also was Ambassador chairman for membership from 1980-82.

Other activities of Mrs. Adams include service on the Chamber's public relations committee since its inception in 1975, currently she is goodwill chairman and a member of the 1983 Community Betterment Committee. For the past three years, she has been a volunteer for the annual cleanup campaign and is now involved in her second year as public relations chairman for that committee.

An active member of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, she completed a two-year term on its board of directors and has been chairman of the "Christman Party for Special Children" 1980 and 1983, having first started working on that project in 1978.

Mrs. Adams, the mother of two children and a member of St. John United Church of Christ, is actively involved in many other local women's organizations.

There is no admission for the Bridal Fair. As guests arrive and visit the various participating exhibitors' booths, they may register for gifts and prizes.

Music throughout the public affair will be provided by "Horizon."

Local business places taking part in the pre-spring exhibition include Bellingers Advertising Service, Betty and Bob's Flowers, Captain's Clipper, D & D Catering, The Fabric Shop, Granite City Jewelers, Granite City Jewelry, Hirsch Jewelers, Ltd., J.D. Hudson Fine Jewelers, Shirk-K Floral Designs, John Locus Photography, Mary Kay Cosmetics by Jennie Dehn, Michel's Jewelry & Gift Shop, Schultz Limousine Service, Silk Occasions and Trattler's Men's Store.

HEIRLOOM GOWN, is one of many wedding dresses to be featured at the Bridal Fair '84 show on Sunday, Feb. 5, at the Granite City Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave. Created in white bridal silk, seed pearls and sequins accent the Venise lace trim at the high neckline, fitted bodice and is repeated on the French pouf-style sleeves and slightly gathered skirt. Modeling the gown, with a cathedral length train of ruffles and pearl lace, is Jaclyn Greer. Shirley Adams, left, commentator for the show, adjusts the veil as Inge, one of the sponsors, holds the train.

the village of Cahokia and ignoring the St. Clair County Bi-state advisory referendum in 1981 and 111 Citizens Utility Board municipal referendums in 1983, the Utility Tax Cut has been ruled off the ballot by attorney general's opinion. The utility tax opinions are more political than legal. They attack the advisory referendum process because they know their case against the utility tax is weak on the merits."

The Madison County Board had approved the issue for the ballot in December by a 25 to 0 vote. Thereafter, the attorney general began mailing his opinion against ballot access by county board resolution to courthouses throughout the state in an effort to head off grassroots movement for the tax cut being led by the Coalition for Political Honesty, which organized the 111 CUB referendums and the 1984 Legislative Cutback Amendment, Byers contend.

Because of the St. Clair County Court petition which is normally given more weight than attorney's opinions, the Madison County Board last week refused to reverse its action. Assistance State's Attorney Marshall Zedlitz, then advised the court clerk to not certify the question on the ballot.

Reversal of the attorney general's opinion is already underway in HB 1238, which has already passed the Illinois House. Bill 1238 is now in the Senate. Elections Committee. HB 1238 would make clear the ambiguous language in the Election Code concerning whether a governmental body, as well as voters by petition, may place advisory questions on the ballot. The referendums have no legal effect, but do have political effect on elected legislators, Byers said.

He continued: "Cutting utility taxes in half, which rises every utility rate increase, would do more. Homeowners must now put the pressure on to stop our fastest growing tax. Our homeowners need his relief, as do our businesses which are struggling with high energy costs too."

Byers said he has petitions available now and he intends to mail one to every county board member urging them to use them as they campaign for the November election. Petitions also came available from the Utility Tax Cut Campaign, Box 700, Perryville, Illinois 62208 from the Coalition for Political Honesty, Box 708, Oak Park, Ill. 60302. The petition requires 10 percent of the registered voters in a given governmental area to place the utility tax question on the November ballot.

The concept of a light rail system for this metropolitan area has been seriously endorsed by the Greater St. Louis Labor Council President Robert J. Kelley. Kelley said the Labor Council, which represents 175,000 AFL-CIO union members in the metropolitan area, believes St. Louis needs a better method of moving people from one place to another.

"Traveling by automobile is not cost-effective and it's polluting our environment," Kelley said. "The cost of parking is very high in the downtown area and Clayton, if you can even find a spot to park."

"The start-up portion of the light rail system would provide $250 million of work for St. Louis residents,"

"It has been found that a light rail system attracts new economic development that you do not get with just a bus system, and this would mean even more new jobs in the area."

"St. Louis is in a unique position to build a cost-effective light rail system."

"In other cities, like Pittsburgh, they are being forced to spend millions and millions of dollars to dig up right-of-way to build a light rail system to the city to hold a light rail system," Kelley said. "Here, 75 percent of the right-of-way and track is already available."

"The council believes a light rail system will be a definite community asset and unanimously endorses the concept."

Light rail is part of an alternative analysis of public transit improvements in the region's central corridor conducted by the West Gateway Community Corporation. If the light rail system is approved by the Gateway board of directors, it will be combined with enhanced bus service to establish an integrated transit system.

Other groups supporting light rail include Citizens for Modern Transit (an organization of business, civic leaders and residents throughout the community), Downtown St. Louis, American Institute of Architects, Central West End Association and Landmarks Association.

The plan would link Madison-St. Clair counties, St. Louis, Clayton and Lambert Airport.

29 III. lotto
in year's time

Illinois State Lottery sales virtually doubled in the second quarter of fiscal 1984 (Oct. 1 to Dec. 31, 1983) compared with the same quarter last year.

Lottery profits increased 94 percent.

Supt. Michael J. Jones said sales in the second quarter reached $219.3 million, compared with $110.2 million in the second quarter of fiscal 1983.

The lottery's profits, the money the state's general revenue fund, reached $90.9 million, compared with $46.8 million in the earlier quarter, and prizes were $104 million, compared with $50 million a year ago.

Sales in the first half of the current year (July 1 to Dec. 31, 1983) were up more than 80 percent over the same period last year to $392.3 million from $216.9 million.

The $392.3 million first-half figure is greater than lottery sales in any full year of its 5-year history with the exception of last year's first half.

Instant games continued to be the lottery's most popular, and its sales were up 39.7 percent to $91.2 million from the $65.3 million in last year's first quarter.

The daily game remained constant in both years' second quarters, posting sales of $12.1 million.

The lottery also created more millionaires so far in fiscal 1984 than in any full fiscal year in the lottery's history, 11 individuals winning between $1 million and $6 million in instant games and lotto grand prizes.

It is the fourth largest state source of revenue for the state's general revenue fund, following income taxes, sales taxes and public utility taxes.

Just over two years ago, the lottery was the ninth largest producer of revenues for the general revenue fund.

The increase in instant game sales continues a trend that began over two years ago. At that time, instant games became easier and more fun to play, more attractive and the ways players qualify for the instant games' $1 million grand prizes became standardized. Marketing efforts for instant games were increased, and promotional activities stressed the fun of playing the games.

Jones attributed the 80 percent increase in lotto sales from first quarter to second quarter on the high awareness level the game has generated. He noted that since lotto began February, it has created 13 millionaires and 19 multimillionaires. Two won $1,400,000 each this week.

"People all over the state realize that with lotto their chances of winning $1 million or more have never been better," he said.

Jones would not predict total sales for the current fiscal year. He did note, however, that if sales continue at their current rate, the lottery would surpass last year's record total sales of $495 million by early February 1984.

Daily, now with Rend Lake, eyes pro ranks

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

Rick Daily, one of a very long and brilliant list of baseball prospects spawned by Granite City High School, is at the crossroads of a career which many local fans believe could take him up to a long and shining professional career.

After a sensational prep career in both football and baseball at Granite City South High, Daily signed to play both sports at Southeast Missouri State at Cape Girardeau. A lackluster freshman year at SEMO disillusioned him and his grades suffered. But, even so, he starred for the SEMO baseball team and helped it to advance to the Midwest NCCA regional tournament at SIU-Edwardsville, won by Coach Gary (Bo) Collins' Cougars.

At this point, young Daily decided to switch from Cape to Rend Lake Junior College, near Benton, to play for former Granite City native son, Coach Kirk Champion.

Almost the precise time of his decision to move, at the urging of his old prep coach, Babe Champion (Kirk's father and a member of Granite City's 1948 Illinois state baseball champions), decided to become a switch hitter.

During the past summer, as a key member of the outstanding semi-pro quality 7-Up/Spanky's baseball team, Daily was nothing less than sensational at third base over a 52-game schedule. He hit a robust .315 average and racked up a torrid .452 slugging average, drove in 14 runs (nine game winners), and fielded an awesome .908 percent at third base.

Champion, whose Rend Lake JuCo Warriors won this past Fall's Great Rivers Conference championship says he'll use Daily at shortstop this spring.

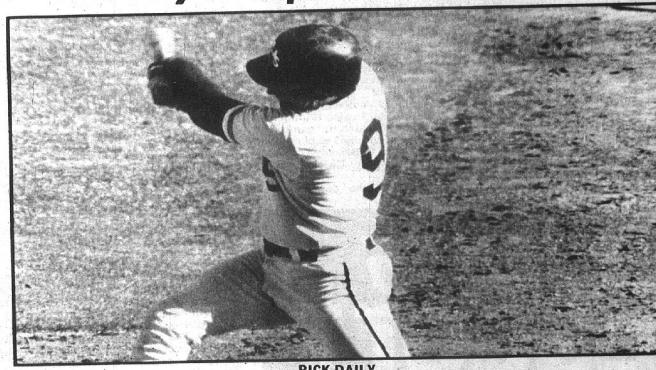

Why? He was asked. "Well," answered Champion: "I have Steve Bluemner of Collingsville playing there and he was a All-Conference (in 1982-83) choice, so I think that Rick will help us more at shortstop."

Bluemner says Champion has indicated he'll enroll at SIU-Edwardsville for the 1984-85 season, which has to be good news for Gary (Bo) Collins and his Cougars.

Kirk Champion is convinced that Daily's decision to learn how to hit from both sides will greatly enhance Rick's chances to make it in the pros. "He hits naturally from the right side, but his swing on the left side is just as good and smooth. He'll make it," he predicts.

And, if this observer may be permitted a personal observation: "I've seen most of the great third basemen in pro baseball going back to the 1920's and early 1930's, through Whitey Kurowski, Ken Boyer, et al, and Rick's fielding talent at third base and his throwing arm is, I thoroughly believe, right now, of Major League quality.

When a ball is batted anywhere near third base, you can confidently mark up your score card: 5 to 3.

In JuCo Cage Action Stars numb Norsemen; 98-93

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Some basketball coaches possess that secret formula for victory. No matter where the star of coach, winning comes nearly as easy as an uncontested bound ball.

Larry Graham, Granite City Center's and Madison High's basketball coach, is one of those coaches who has discovered the secret for winning. Tuesday afternoon, Graham's GCC Stars handily defeated the Florissant Valley Norsemen 98-93 at Granite City Center. It was the Stars' 13th win in 17 attempts this year.

The path to victory was Patrick Hatter, a member of Madison High's 1981 state champion team, who scored 40 points. The Stars have yet to lose a game since Hatter joined the team at the start of the year.

Despite the Stars' victory over the larger Norsemen, Graham found flaws in his team's efforts against the Norsemen.

"I was really disappointed with our efforts, especially on defense," said Graham. "We wanted to come in here on play really super against these guys but didn't."

"We need to work on the fundamentals. Not basketball fundamentals, these guys are far beyond that. But another team basketball," Graham said. "Our timing was not there today."

On the other hand, Graham complimented the Norsemen for their team play and passing ability.

"It's usually the same story, we run over them, but they did," Graham said. "They're a fine passing team. They managed to score on the two-on-one fast breaks when we couldn't. We had our hands full with them."

The Norsemen used their passing, and teamwork, to defeat the Stars afternoons.

For most of the game, Florissant Valley set Joe Ryan or Fred Quinn deep in the Norsemen defense. Following a defensive rebound, the Norsemen were easily in position for the fastbreak layup.

"Our game plan was to try and run past them," said Norsemen Coach Paul Anders. "It worked early, but later in the game all we were able to do was exchange baskets."

"No one can say I was surprised by what they did. Although we didn't get a chance to see them before the game, I did talk with other coaches who played them so we knew what to expect."

The Stars jumped to an early lead in the first half when former Granite City South cager Pat Linhardt tipped a shot in the basket for the game's first tally.

Granite City improved upon that lead, taking a commanding lead in the first minute of the second half with Tim Adams' score basket underneath. Back to back scores by Ryan — first a jumper and later a fastbreak layup — tied the game at six at the two-minute mark.

That put a jolt in the way the scoring went most of the first half. Granite City would score, take a two, three or five-point lead, and then Florissant Valley would equal or narrow the lead.

Hatter led the Stars up by four, 17-13, with 14 minutes remaining in the first half when he dazzled fans, and the Norsemen as well, with a driving, juggling layup. Aside from the Stars' 47-40 halftime lead, it was clearly the highlight of the first half.

The Stars held their lead for much of the second half, and eventually increased it to 12 points, before the Norsemen made another run late in the fourth quarter.

"I honestly thought we had a chance of coming back about midway through the second half," Anders said.

"We fought back, got to within four points, and then committed a turnover which they scored on. So instead of being just two points down they went by six. In my opinion, that was the turning point in the game."

The turning point Anders referred to came in the 32nd minute of the game. Florissant Valley's Fred Quinn, who led the Norsemen with 31 points, sank a jumper to move his squad within four, 68-64. Granite City brought the ball down, but a poor pass enabled Florissant the opportunity to tie the game.

The Norsemen returned the favor, however, turning the ball over themselves and the Stars were able to capitalize on the misfortune. Marc Parker sank a beautiful 15-foot jumper to give the Stars' six-point lead, 72-66.

The turnarounds adverse effect on the Norsemen was obvious almost instantly. Granite City padded its lead by 10 and 12 points for nearly the remainder of the contest before the Norsemen added four quick points in the final four seconds of the game.

To Rival Tigers Warriors lose first GEC cage game

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City High School Warrior girls' basketball team dropped a 60-48 decision to Gateway East conference rival Edwardsville in the night Memorial Gymnasium. That loss dropped the Warriors record to 4-4. It was also their first conference loss.

Edwardsville took the opening tip of the court to put the first two points on the board. Kathi Juhasz was the first out for the Warriors to tip off, sinking a 15-footer to tie the score.

The Warriors traded baskets with the Tigers before Edwardsville's Elaine Onley and former Steeler Paul Rozicky combined to give the Tiger girls a 15-point lead.

However, the Warriors refused to give up. Lisa Lilley hit a jump shot with 39 seconds left to get the Warriors within 8-6. With 12 seconds left, Debbie Brandt put in a free throw to bring the score to 10-6. Brandt missed her second shot but Nancy McCleary put in the rebound at the buzzer to give the Warriors a 9-8 lead after one quarter.

It looked as if the Warriors were going to continue their good form in the second quarter, but McCleary connected with a jump shot to increase their lead to 11-8. However, that lead was short lived.

Eight straight points by the Tigers made the score 16-11. The Warriors put back in the lead with 18-16, on baskets by Lilley and Juhasz but again Edwardsville came roaring back.

The Tigers put in eight more second quarter points while the Warriors added only two to make the half-score 26-18. The Warriors had been outscored 18-9 in the second quarter.

To make matters worse for the Warriors, Debbie Brandt, Granite City's tallest player, was once again Edwardsville's top positioning. If we were doing things correctly on defense we'd be in better position for rebounds."

The Warriors next match is at home next Tuesday against another conference rival, Cahokia. The junior varsity game will begin at 6 p.m.

SCORING: GCHS (48): Juhasz 2 0-2 4, Lilley 8 0 10, Cox 1 2-4, Brandt 3 4-8 10, McCleary 4 0 8, Fanning 2 0-2 4, FG 20 FT 8 PFT 18.

Warriors at home this weekend

GRANITE CITY — Warrior basketball fans will get two opportunities to see their favorite team at home this weekend as the Warrior host Southwestern Conference member Alton on Friday and independent St. Jacob (Triad) on Saturday.

The host Warriors will take a 7-9 record into this weekend's games. Friday's opponent, Alton, is currently one of the better teams in the area, rated second in the Press-Record Coaches Poll. The Warriors are an honorably mentioned team. The Redbirds are 12-5.

Triad, the Warriors' opponent on Saturday, are having a more difficult time winning this season. Currently the Warriors are 1-10.

Granite City faces this weekend's games with a hot-cold attitude. Although the Warriors have won seven of their last nine contests, including a 58-53 victory over Hillsboro last Friday, the 3-1 Hilltoppers gave the Warriors all they could handle.

DOUBLE TROUBLE. Granite City Center's Patrick Hatter draws double coverage from Florissant Valley's Curtis Cole (25) and Fred Quinn during Tuesday's junior college basketball game at GCC. Despite the double coverage, Hatter and the Stars prevailed, winning 98-93.

DOC offers poachers hotline number

SPRINGFIELD — Target Illinois Poachers (TIP), a 24-hour seven-day-a-week, toll-free poaching hotline began operation Jan. 1, according to Tom Johnson, Director of Conservation and David Kenney. The number is 1 (800) 232-0163.

Conservation Police Officers will man the hotline during regular duty hours. After hours, and on holidays, callers will leave a recorded message. "Our 100 Conservation Police Officers have an enormous geographic area to patrol. No matter how conscientious, or hard working, they can't possibly observe all violations. That's why the TIP Hotline gives citizens who care about wildlife resources an opportunity to do something," he said.

"We believe that the hotline will allow us to substantially increase the number of deer poaching investigations and strike a real blow against poachers who are stealing from the honest sportsmen and citizen," Kenney said. "Poaching is a big problem, and a big business in Illinois. Too many men, taking a deer or rabbit out of season to feed their family. That is, in the vast majority of cases, simply not true."

"The poacher often owns an expensive off-road vehicle and fast to move around and use firearms. He doesn't steal to feed his family; he steals for the fun of it or for money. There are hundreds of thousands of dollars to be made in illegally obtained wild game," Kenney explained.

No one knows the exact extent of the problem but there are several indicators that suggest it's pervasive and lucrative, Kenney said.

"In the recent past, our law enforcement officers received a number of complaints from citizens in the Chicago area which revealed a massive illegal operation in the Chicago area," he said. "We know that hundreds, probably thousands of deer were poached in the winter. Those irresponsible individuals are, I believe, from honest deer hunters. It is not unreasonable to achieve that goal."

"We have great hopes for the TIP program," Kenney said. "The potential is tremendous. But, in the final analysis, the program's success or failure will rest on the citizens. Those who are responsible for habitat degradation, becoming involved can we successfully stop the predations of an unscrupulous minority. TIP is one means to achieve that goal."

assume that our legal deer harvest would be much higher if we could control poaching."

Kenney emphasized that the poaching hotline is designed for one specific purpose. It was not conceived as a general complaint number. "We don't want to see the Hotline tied up with questions or comments that should be directed to regular numbers during normal hours," he said.

Callers should be prepared to provide as many specifics about suspected violations as possible, including names, addresses, descriptions of violators, including place numbers, location, nature of the offense, time, date, and any other details.

"We have great hopes for the TIP program," Kenney said. "The potential is tremendous. But, in the final analysis, the program's success or failure will rest on the citizens. Those who are responsible for habitat degradation, becoming involved can we successfully stop the predations of an unscrupulous minority. TIP is one means to achieve that goal."

The Tigers put in eight more second quarter points while the Warriors added only two to make the half-score 26-18. The Warriors had been outscored 18-9 in the second quarter.

Warriors at home this weekend

GRANITE CITY — Warrior basketball fans will get two opportunities to see their favorite team at home this weekend as the Warrior host Southwestern Conference member Alton on Friday and independent St. Jacob (Triad) on Saturday.

The host Warriors utilized these turnovers to cut the Tiger lead to nine points, 53-44, with two minutes left to play. It looked as if there still might be a chance for the Warriors till three free throws put the Tigers back on top 53-44.

The Warriors were able to manage four more points but excellent free shooting by the Tigers gave them the final victory.

Debbie Brandt, Warrior Coach Gordon Galbreath saw some good aspects of his team's play.

"It got interesting at the end when we started hustling," Galbreath said. "The girls worked hard and tried to comeback. I have to hand it to them, they did a great job."

The main problem Galbreath saw with his team's play was lack of aggressiveness.

"I'd like to see the girls hustle and attack and not just be content sitting on the bench," Galbreath said.

"The girls have to work harder," Galbreath said.

VENICE — No matter what the Venice Red Devils did to prevent total annihilation of Illini-Gateway Conference rival Belleville St. Henry, it didn't work.

First of all, Venice played its starting five for only half the game. That couldn't stop Eddie Salmond from scoring 26 points.

Secondly, the Red Devils didn't bother to go to their locker room for a time-out at halftime. Yet, Venice was able to pick apart the Eagles at will in the second half.

Finally, Venice Coach Clinton Harris benched three players because they attempted to dunk the ball. Even without the dunks and the players who tried them, Venice destroyed 0-11 St. Henry 111-38.

Despite Venice's dominance throughout the game, Harris had little to say about the game.

"We're up there and we can do the offense the way we want to," Harris said. "Everyone got a chance to play and did their jobs."

Harris declined to comment further about the game. The rest spoke for itself.

Less than 70 Venice fans bothered to walk into the Venice High School gymnasium to watch the game. The remainder of the fans either stayed home or drove to Brooklyn to watch the Lovejoy play East St. Louis.

Those fans who did stay saw

Venice jump to a 15-2 lead midway through the first quarter. By the end of the quarter, the Red Devils led 31-10, and out came the starters.

St. Henry couldn't even begin to score. Venice's reserves — the ones who were left over after the starters had been taken off — increased the halftime lead to 56-17.

The starters re-entered the game during the second half, but not for the entire 10-minute halftime break and continued the slaughter. Despite Harris' threats to pull out any player who tries to dunk, forward Phillip White and center Darrell Wise ate those dunks anyway.

Both continents were taken out for the remainder of the game, but before Wise could be taken out, he tried another dunk. Wise missed both tries at the dunk.

Ricky King was also taken out of the game during the second quarter for trying to dunk.

St. Henry had no hope of stopping the Red Devils. Venice easily ran through the Eagles' zone defense and prevented them from getting their offense off at will.

The Red Devils kept their toll on St. Henry. The Catholic preparatory seminary only had seven players on its varsity roster Tuesday and did not field a junior varsity team to face the Red Devils.

Venice, 12-4 for the season and 5-0 in the Illini-Gateway was led by Salmond's 26 points. The senior guard scored all his points in just 16 minutes.

Meanwhile, White scored 18 points and appeared to recovered from the head concussion he suffered last week at the Litchfield Invitational Tournament. A pair of reserves also got into the scoring act. Hamilton finished with 13 points while Victor Jackson added 13 points.

All 12 of Venice's varsity players scored at least two points.

Venice travels to Lovejoy Friday to play the improving Wildcats. Lovejoy, 5-9 this season, won the consolation championship at the Sparta Invitational Tournament.

Trojans ground Eagles; win 59-49

COUNTERVILLE — The Madison High School basketball team extended its string of consecutive victories to 13 Tuesday evening by posting a 59-49 win over the Cottleville Eagles.

Madison's Reggie Banks led all scorers in the contest with 23 points. Two other Trojans — Michael Young and Joe Crowder — were also in double figures. Each scored 10 points.

The victory improved the Trojans' season record to 14-2, while the Eagles are 10-14.

Tuesday night's game is a prelude to this weekend's games. Friday the Trojans will take on Lebanon while the Metro-East Knight visit Madison on Saturday.

Saturday's contest, incidentally, is a benefit for the Sam Dymas family to help defray some of Mr. Dymas' medical expenses.

I think it's an excellent idea," said Trojan Coach Larry Graham, of the benefit. "Without Sam around, it just doesn't seem the same."

Tickets for both games are still available. However, tickets for Saturday's game must be purchased only at Madison's office prior to the game. Tickets will not be sold that evening.

Jayvee action in both games begins at 6:30 p.m.

A Super Bowl Series? Consider it

"We want the whole world to know this time we're going to win the Super Bowl."

From Tarkenton, Minnesota's veteran quarterback, fall 1976. The Vikings lost their previous Super Bowl bids, despite Tarkenton's assurances, made it four straight, losing 32-14.

The 1984 Super Bowl XVIII, was true to the most super of traditions — a Super Bowl series.

Even the media hype which preceded the big game couldn't entice a better, less boring performance out of the teams. Sure, the Los Angeles Raiders proved that they were super on Sunday, but even their efforts were overshadowed by the Washington Redskins' Monday night show.

And although the Redskins lost the grandaddy of football contests and failed to re-establish themselves as Super Bowl Champions, they were not the real losers. The real losers were the viewing public and those paying advertisers.

Many people I talked to did not watch the whole game out of one shudders. In fact, Super Bowl or not, many did as I did and watched very little of the second half.

Why? Simply because of the type of game it was. Perhaps like many, I had prepared myself to a super match-up. These people who did watch the game, I understand, are either one or more of three types of persons — they were bored with nothing else to do Sunday; looking for a reason to throw a party or Raider fans who cared less about a good contest and more about anticipation. No, I'm not a瓦伦蒂诺·雷德斯通。 Although, I like to think that there would emerge as winners, after all, Washington had the better record.

Speaking of the Redskins, in all fairness to them, they are a better team than they displayed last Sunday. Similarly, the Raiders, the fine team that they are, played their best game of the season Sunday. The game statistics bore that out. Hence, the miserable showing.

Super Bowl XVIII, remarkably enough closely resembled another big football game this year which was also a fiasco — the 1984 Rose Bowl game in Pasadena, Calif., between Illinois and UCLA. A blowout victory in the first quarter, followed in a touchdown for the opposition. Similarly, neither team — the Redskins or the Illini — ever recovered, which resulted in a lopsided victory for the other.

If there are any viewing benefits of Sunday's Super Bowl it will be the show which could be learned from such a super contest.

First, football more than other sport, is a game of chance. Certainly, much depends on athletic abilities, but those are the only constants. Chances and capitalizing on key opportunities more often dictate the outcome of such publicized events as the Super Bowl. The Raiders, the Vikings, the gods of opportunity.

Some may argue that point, saying simply the Raiders were just that much better than the Redskins.

If that was the case, then the Oct. 2 regular season game between the two — a 37-35 victory for the Redskins — defies explanation.

Or, what about the St. Louis Cardinals' romping of the Raiders on Dec. 11, in the Coliseum. Or consider the Seattle Seahawks, who managed a pair of victories — both at home and at the Coliseum — over

Sports on the Run

By Al Gersteneker

the Raiders. Certainly, if the Raiders took the Seahawks lightly in the first game, they would have taken more seriously at home two weeks later. Again that defies explanation.

On the other side of the coin, consider the Redskins' losses. The Skins dropped their first game of the season, a Monday Night Football Spectacular, to the Dallas Cowboys 31-30. More surprisingly, on another Monday Night game, a 49-47 loss to the Green Bay Packers.

Flukes? Perhaps.

But part of what makes football so appealing to the masses, I believe, is its unpredictability, which brings me to my column:

Any team can beat any other team on any given Sunday. Yes, you've heard that before. Maybe because it is true.

Why then hinge the World Championship on a single game. Most other sports championships in baseball, basketball and hockey, to name a few, compete in a best-of series. Even in road racing and golf athletes accumulate points towards an end-of-the-year title.

Just consider the 1982 World Series. Milwaukee ripped apart the St. Louis Cardinals, 10-0 in the first game of that seven-game series. Yet, despite Milwaukee's lopsided victory in the first game, St. Louis came on to win the series and the championship.

Granted, there's quite a difference in time needed in preparing for a football game as compared to baseball. But it could work, say a best-of-three series.

Looked at in the 1983 NFC and AFC schedules are at least three interconference games. Washington had three — Kansas City, Seattle and Los Angeles — while the Raiders, for example, had four — against Washington, Dallas, NY Giants and St. Louis.

I suggest reducing the number of interconference games to one per season. Say, each NFC team could play an AFC team and call it "Interconference Sunday, or Interconference Week" to include Monday and Thursday night games.

It would re-instate the 14-game season, but it would enable all conference teams at least one matchup and include one interconference game.

But also, it would allow the Super Bowl Series.

Spending the entire season winning a championship only to lose it in a three-hour span does not seem an adequate way to determine a champion.

The financial benefits which would maintain the 16-game schedule — but would in all likelihood be unpopular with the public — would be to do away with the wild card berths.

Another alternative is the obvious one. Extend the entire season, say, to two weeks, to accommodate the series.

The financial benefits of the Super Bowl in its current state is overwhelming. But, it would even be greater if it were lengthened to a series to more accurately determine a world champion.

It's an idea worth consideration.

Class space is limited.

Retired federal employees enroll four new members

Warren Krause, William Jenkins and Mary and Robert Sikes were enrolled as new members of the National Association of Retired Federal Employees, Chapter 1067, during a luncheon meeting held at Charlie's Restaurant.

Chapter President Gerald Walters called the meeting to order with Secretary Vice President Tharr Erney giving the invocation. All repeated the pledge of allegiance to the flag in unison.

Following the luncheon hour the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved as was the treasurer's report for the month of December.

Speaking on behalf of the audit committee, that was appointed at the November meeting, Chairman Arvola Close distributed copies of the financial statement to each member. Her committee included Marie Grinnell, secretary; Ruthie Reiter, treasurer; Helen Martin, chapter treasurer; on the excellent financial records as they met all the audit requirements.

Mrs. Georgina McMillan announced the NARFE Headquarters has issued a new manual for the guidance of chapter service officers.

She and Frances Hoppe will study the publication and will present a detailed report to the membership at a later meeting. Mrs. McMillan said, "Myself and all informed the group the Sunshine Committee learned of two members who are hospitalized, another is recuperating at home and two more are scheduled to undergo major surgery. Appropriate messages will be sent to all," she added.

The president advised the membership that Elmer Ebrecht has agreed to serve as chairman of the program committee for the year but there is a need to fill vacant committee positions. A discussion on this segment of the organization will be discussed at the February meeting. Chairmen are needed for the political action, public relations, legislative liaison committees, he said. "Also, until the position of chapter secretary is filled Ruth Stoyanoff will continue to record the meetings."

Lawrence Hengehold, former first vice president of the chapter and a past president of the members presented Harry McClelland with a past president's pin in recognition of his service and guidance during 1983.

Four members present were celebrating birthdays and the members acknowledged wedding anniversaries during this month.

They were accorded special honors by the members.

The attendance prize for the day went to Terry Pittman.

In lieu of a guest speaker for the meeting, the president addressed the group defining his objectives as an officer and requested each member to provide input for chapter programs and projects.

For the organization to maintain its present level of interest to members or improve its position it is necessary to have the cooperation and willingness of each member to serve all concerned," he added.

The Feb. 13 meeting will be held at Charlie's Restaurant, the president said.

Amendment to strengthen Endangered Species Act

A proposed amendment to strengthen the state's Endangered Species Act will be discussed when the Illinois Endangered Species Protection Board meets at 10 a.m. Friday in Chicago.

Mike Sweet, Illinois endangered species coordinator, said the board also is expected to hear reports on a bat study conducted this summer and a bald eagle research project. In addition, board members plan to discuss a proposed road improvement project at the LaRue-Pine Hills Ecological Area in Union County, where a population of the endangered wood rat makes its home.

The meeting is open to the public, Sweet said. However, persons wishing to address the board, must prior to the meeting provide a written copy of what they plan to present.

The Endangered Species Protection Board is a 10-member panel comprised of wildlife professionals and lay people with an interest in endangered species. Members are appointed by the governor to advise the Department of Conservation in its efforts to conserve and preserve endangered plants and animals.

Foils robber

A Granite City man, manager of Collingsville's Burger King restaurant, found a robbery attempt had last week been turned away after a man armed with a rifle or shotgun came to the drive-up window.

The would-be robber apparently drove off after the manager, Lisa Hufford, 18, of Granite City, fled to the back room of the restaurant, according to police reports.

The suspect was described as white, possibly with a moustache, wearing a tan parka with a fur collar and a hood pulled up over his head covering most of his face.

He was driving a white older model pickup, possibly a Ford, with brown paneling and a camper shell.

Miss Hufford said the man drove up to the restaurant on Bell Line Road, between Illinois 157 and 158, purported a hold-up, pointed a gun at her and said, "Give me all your money." She said she yelled to another employee in the back room that they were being robbed, then ran toward the rear of the business.

The employees called police and waited in the back room until officers arrived.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Recently the buyer of a new car contacted this office complaining about problems he was having with the engine. It appeared the vehicle was not running properly and he had taken it back to the dealer for service numerous times. Eventually, the dealer concluded that he could not repair the car, and he suggested that the buyer return to live with another person. When the owner asked the dealer to replace the new car with a different car, the dealer refused.

The buyer in this instance inquired from this office what his options were. He was advised that if he could demonstrate fraud on the part of the car dealer, he could sue for money damages or seek to cancel the entire sale. Fraud involves an intent to defraud. To accomplish this, the buyer of the car which turned out to be a "lemon" would have to demonstrate that the dealer undertook a plan or scheme to practice deception. This would be very difficult to do in this type of case.

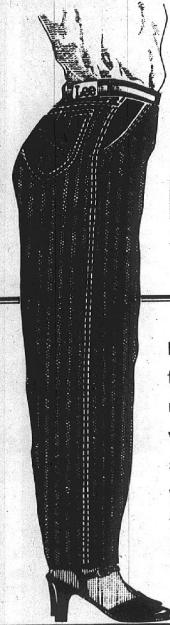

The owner of the "lemon" could also sue the dealer under the Consumer Fraud Deceptive Practices Act. This law prohibits unfair or deceptive acts or practices and unfair methods of competition. This Act has been interpreted in such a manner by the Illinois Courts that nearly any act or practice which demonstrates even the remotest degree of unfairness will result in the consumer prevailing in Court.

Effective January 1, 1984, a new law came into existence. This Act requires the seller of a new car to supply the buyer of a defective new automobile with a replacement car or a refund of the full purchase price. This new Act is referred to as the "New Car Buy-Back Protection Act." Under this law, a new car is considered defective if it cannot be repaired after a reasonable number of attempts while the car is under warranty.

One may legitimately ask what will be considered a "reasonable number of attempts." The term has been defined as four or more attempts to repair the problem or, in the alternative, if the car has been out of service for three or more business days during the warranty period. In either instance, the buyer can insist on a replacement car or a refund of the purchase price.

House donated for Channel 9 TV auction

J. L. Mason of Missouri, Inc., construction company, is building and donating a four bedroom home, valued between $170,000 to $175,000, to Channel 9's 1984 "Auction Adventure." This is the first time a house has been donated to the auction and represents the largest single contribution in Channel 9's auction history.

The announcement of the house coincides with the kickoff of the Wellington, an annual spring fund-raising benefit telecast live April 27 to May 6 from KETC's studio.

Construction began this month on the Wellington, an approximately 2,200 square foot, single-story house located in Mason Homes' Clarkson Crossing development on the corner of Kehrs Mill and Clarkson Roads in Chesterfield, Mo. A wooded common area backs the site, a one-third acre prime lot.

Stevens and Fuller will decorate the house for display purposes. It will be open to the public upon completion in April.

In addition to the Wellington, the Auction Adventure is the block during the 10-day televised shopping spree. Donations of all types are needed. Some suggestions are antiques, trips, cars, furs, jewelry, health club memberships, televisions, stereos, toys, games, furniture, tools, sporting goods, plants, haircuts and household appliances.

To make a donation or for more information, interested persons may call the Channel 9 Auction office at 1-34-725-5575.

Jail term in stabbing

A 69-day Madison County jail term and a year of probation have been ordered for Scott Howell, 25, of 2114 Adams St. He pleaded guilty Dec. 5 to aggravated battery.

The occurrence took place Oct. 8 in Granite City and the charge was filed Oct. 21.

Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick presided at the County Courthouse in Edwardsville.

Police were dispatched to a home in the 1900 block of Maple Street when a stabbing was reported.

In a bedroom there, officers found Cheryl Turner of the 2100 block of Adams with a stab wound to her stomach. She alleged that Howell came to her residence in search of a relative and an argument ensued.

When he asked her to leave, he began cursing and stabbing her with a silver pocketknife before running from the house, authorities were told. She received treatment and was being transported by ambulance.

Howell was taken into custody a short time later while walking west on W. 20th Street at Leyden Avenue.

Workshop Feb. 4 on campaign disclosure

Evelyn M. Bowles, county clerk of Madison County, has announced that a workshop will be held on Saturday, Feb. 4, at 10 a.m. at the state Board of Elections, 1020 South Spring St., Springfield. The purpose of the workshop is to discuss political committees and interested citizens of filing obligation under the Illinois Campaign Financing Act.

ARRESTED AT CAFE

Responding to a call from Ruth's Cafe, 19th and Madison streets, during the early morning hours, police were escorting a man, who had been asked to leave, from the restaurant when a second man, Lucas C. VanBuskirk, 24, of 314 Wilson Park Lane, allegedly began shouting obscenities at the officers. VanBuskirk was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. He was released on notice to appear for a court hearing.

Stevens and Fuller will decorate the house for display purposes. It will be open to the public upon completion in April.

The workshop will be administered by the Illinois State Board of Elections. The main topics that will be discussed are procedures for completing disclosure forms, recent amendments to the act, and rules and regulations. The public is being invited to attend.

Library exhibit shows 45 Book of Mormon translations

A display on the main floor of the Lovejoy Library at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville features 45 translations of the book of Mormon which have been presented over several years by the Mormon student association, the Deseret Club.

Library Director Gary Denue said, "We are glad to have this collection. Some of the languages are rather obscure and exotic and these are probably the only examples of those particular languages in the entire library."

DENUE SAID the library has limited translations of other religious works, mainly the Bible and some Chinese writings which were translated into English "Offhand," Denue said, "there is no other work I can think of which we have available in the library in so many different languages."

The exhibit includes translations in Tagalog, Arabic, Armenian, Aymara, Bulgarian, Cambodian, Catalan, Chinese, Croatian, Czech, Danish, Dutch, Fijian, Finnish, French, German, Greek, Hawaiian, Hmong, a Southeast Asian dialect, Hungarian, Indonesian, Italian, Japanese, Korean and Indian dialect, Persian, Navajo, Norwegian, Polish, Portuguese, several dialects of Quechua found in Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia, Rarotongan and Tongan, South Pacific language, Persian, Russian, Samoan, Spanish, Swedish, Tahitian, Thai and Vietnamese.

Stanley B. Kimball, professor of historical studies at SIUE and adviser to the Deseret Club since it was founded in 1972, said, "Most of the editions have been typewritten because there are no printing fonts available in those languages."

KIMBALL SAID the translations have been developed as part of the study of the history of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Denue said missionaries of various religions have greatly contributed to the collection of written languages. "In our own country," Denue said, "early missionaries, both the Catholic and Protestant faiths, in their work with the Indians, captured at least a part of their spoken languages in print."

For more information about the display, interested persons may contact Lovejoy Library at 1-692-2803.

Bratton named Resource Steward

Kent Bratton, a geologist and planner who received his master's degree from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is among eight outstanding contributors to the preservation and wise use of Missouri's natural resources.

Bratton was recognized as a 1983 Resource Steward at the Missouri Department of Natural Resource annual conference, yesterday.

SOME OF HIS achievements have been his involvement with the Southeast Missouri Regional Planning and Economic Development Commission. As assistant director, he aided in the development of maps of all the censuses of the planning area and he was instrumental in obtaining public support and funding for wastewater treatment facilities, drainage structures and other public works.

7-year, 5-year terms for apartment burglary

A seven-year prison sentence has been ordered by Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill for Charles Phillip Davis, 31, of 2041 State St.

The apartment at 1020 Buckingham, Washington Avenue, was burglarized July 22, 1983. Household items, including a television set, were taken, it was alleged in an investigation completed in mid-September.

In addition, Davis was charged Sept. 12 with burglary and felonious theft in the removal of a 1983 auto from Mathews Chevrolet, Niederrhinghaus and Madison avenues.

Davis was arrested after the vehicle—taken from the auto agency at 12th and Madison—was found by police and deemed involved in a traffic mishap at 24th Street and Nameoki Road. Three persons in another car were injured.

During the pursuit, the 1983 auto veered south onto Nameoki Road from East Madison, crossed a center line and struck a northbound car.

At Mathews, desk drawers had been rummaged through and various items had been moved. The car, taken from a service area, belonged to a resident of Creve Coeur.

Guilt pleas to theft and two burglary counts were submitted Nov. 30 by Davis.

Two other persons were linked by officials to the July 22 Buckingham apartment burglary.

One of them, Jerry D. Sidwell, 34, of Livingston, Ill., formerly of Granite City, has been sentenced to five years in prison by Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick. The burglary charge was filed Sept. 12 and he pleaded guilty Nov. 14.

Also charged with the July 22 burglary on Sept. 12 and pleading guilty Nov. 14 before Judge Rarick, Charles A. Valte, 29, of Granite City, was placed on a year of probation and was fined $500 and $50 special costs.

DISMISS LIBERTIES CHARGE

An initial charge of taking independent liberties with a child Nov. 24, D.C. 13 against Dean Jones, 52, of 827 Iowa St., Madison, was dismissed Dec. 13. The 1983 Circuit Court records say the dismissal was sought by the state's attorney because the case is being handled by grand jury action.

LAWNMOWER IS STOLEN

Joseph Kayich Sr., 1028 Washington Ave., Madison, has recovered his lawnmower that two men stole his lawnmower, valued at $150, from a utility shed and apparently sold the machine.

officials to the July 22 Buckingham apartment burglary.

One of them, Jerry D. Sidwell, 34, of Livingston, Ill., formerly of Granite City, has been sentenced to five years in prison by Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick. The burglary charge was filed Sept. 12 and he pleaded guilty Nov. 14.

IN VENICE INCIDENT

After a police car topping the road on the Venice riverfront during the weekend, an officer halted the vehicle at Fourth Street and Hampden Avenue and alleged seeing a passenger and the driver changing places.

Shane M. Wright, 18, of 4010 Elm Ave., Mitchell, was charged with permitting an unauthorized person to drive and illegal transportation of alcohol after several cans of beer allegedly were found in the car. She was released upon posting her driver's license to appear in court Feb. 3.

Curts Adrian Ray, 17, of 4513 Walter Ave., also in the car, was charged with not having a valid driver's license and illegal transportation of alcohol.

Ray pled guilty in an appearance in the Granite City court Monday and was fined a total of $1,270. He was given time to pay the amount and was released.

Computer plan would trace missing children

An authority on child abduction was in St. Louis on Monday to demonstrate how a national system that could link law enforcement officials across the nation in efforts to find thousands of children who are reported missing each year.

The network would bring the technology of the 20th Century to bear on the subject of child abduction.

Ken Wooden, founder and executive director of the National Coalition for Children's Justice, says the child victim network is designed to link police departments in 20 major American airport cities where trade in abducted children is carried on. Wooden has spent the last four years in research on the project.

Attending the demonstration were advocates of the national child abduction network. Jim Walsh, father of a child who was recently the subject of a network television movie about his abduction, and John and Noreen Gosch, parents of an abducted child.

Ralston Purina held the gathering of parents and concerned citizens at its headquarters building to witness Wooden's demonstration. Ralston contributed $25,000 in seed money for Wooden and his organization in 1979 to initiate research on the national child victim network.

Ralston remains Wooden's largest corporate sponsor to date. Currently, its breakfast food division is investigating the possibility of launching a national public service program to educate the public on this topic.

"We are proud to have with us today a man who has devoted his life to fight the escalating problem of missing children and violence against juveniles," said P. Baird, second vice president, Ralston Purina, as he introduced Wooden.

"Ken Wooden is single-handedly bringing this issue to the forefront."

3 forms for income taxes

When taxpayers file their federal tax returns this year they can choose from three different forms depending on their financial circumstances, the Internal Revenue Service says.

Single taxpayers (without any dependents) who do not itemize their deductions, and whose taxable income is not more than $50,000 a year is from wages, salaries and tips, who have no other deduction, may be able to use the Form 1040EZ.

In addition, when filing a Form 1040EZ, a taxpayer can claim the charitable contribution for non-itemizers up to a maximum deduction of $25.

For example, taxpayers who claim extra exemptions for being age 65 or older, or for blindness, and those with dividend income cannot use the Form 1040EZ.

Taxpayers who cannot use 1040EZ because their income is from dividends or unemployment compensation, in addition to wages, salaries and tips, and whose interest exceeds $400, may be able to use Form 1040A. When using 1040A, tax payers can also claim the Child and Dependent Care Credit and take an IRA (individual retirement) exclusion.

Of course, the IRS notes, some taxpayers may not be able to use a Form 1040EZ or Form 1040A because they cannot afford the kind of income received, filing status, the need to file certain additional forms and/or schedules, or the need to pay other taxes that can only be shown on a Form 1040.

In addition, taxpayers may choose Form 1040 because they may want to claim itemized deductions, adjustments to income, or credits that cannot be taken when using the Form 1040EZ or Form 1040A.

Taxpayers generally receive the tax package which meets the needs of the form they filed in the previous year.

Additional forms and schedules are available from IRS offices, and in many local banks and post offices. Many libraries also carry copies of reproducible tax forms.

Some veterans eligible for replacement of teeth

The Veterans Administration is looking for a small number of veterans who now are eligible for dental care the agency once denied because of a legal technicality which has been corrected.

The retroactive benefit involves one who developed with the aid of computers, dentists, will revolutionize manner in which police trace these children.

Wooden said, "Unfortunately, in many instances, our police have a better system of tracing stolen automobiles than they do missing children." The network is capable of bridging the information gap by providing police departments with timely and detailed information on juveniles and perpetrators of crimes against children who are traveling through communities.

The computer system would allow investigators of different jurisdictions to gather, process and share information specific to missing and murdered children.

It would include such detailed data as physical characteristics, clothes they were last seen wearing, and types of wounds found on murdered children.

Eventually, it could include data on voice prints, dental records, and fingerprints for identification.

"This system will increase the ability of local police to rapidly analyze case data. The computer will be located at a central site where data entry, analysis, training and research functions will be based," said Wooden.

He added that satellite sites with a computer terminal and printer will be set up in 26 cities. Police departments will feed data to a central computer system which will have access to all information stored in the computer. Included will be St. Louis and Chicago.

As part of this program concept, Wooden has trained thousands of investigators and examiners to identify the U. S. on crimes against juveniles and ways to "detect" potential criminals.

He said the national child victim network needs additional funding to further its efforts. "We have had to learn our energies and resources on developing the system. We need to spread the word now to the police, to parents, and to the public."

"We need the funds and the hardware that will enable us to offer this system to other cities and the law enforcement officials there. At stake is the well-being—the lives—of our children," Wooden concluded.

DISTERMER PREVENTION

Distermer is a virus. As with other viral diseases, once the distermer has attacked an animal and survived, there is no specific and effective treatment. Prevention is the only answer.

Don't expect that it won't strike your dog. It is prevalent in most climates the year-round. And rather than being some rare disease, it is a common disease, a common disease to affect dogs. Therefore, the prevention of distermer is of paramount importance to dog owners. If a dog has been exposed to the virus, it will develop the same antibodies as if he had recovered from the disease. From that time on, it will be immune to distermer.

The timing of the vaccination is important. Puppies develop a temporary immunity by nursing. This temporary immunity may last for the first 24 weeks of their lives. This immunity will last from a few weeks to 14 weeks depending on the degree of the dam's immunity. During this time, a dog may become infected with distermer and when the maternal immunity wears off, the puppies are susceptible to the disease.
